DIDI DRAWS HER FEELINGS

Aoife Greenham

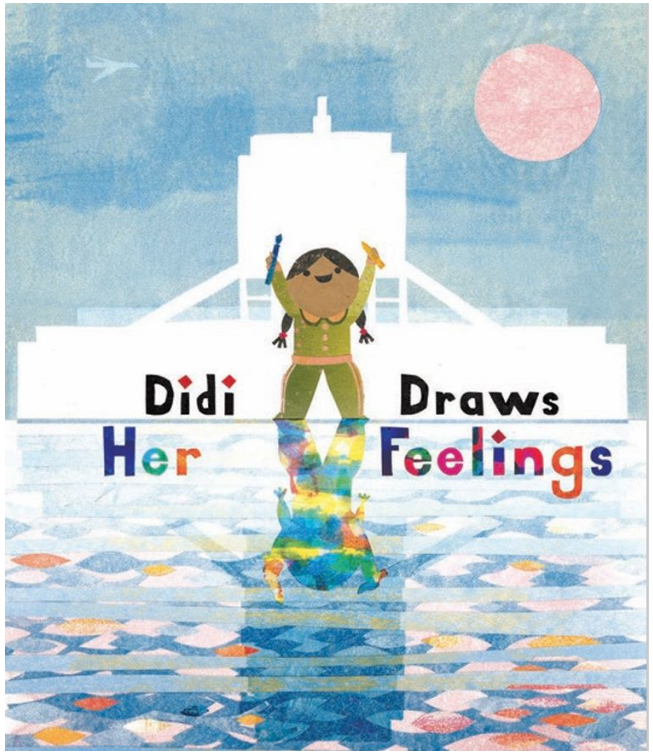

TATE PUBLISHING

Didi is excited to visit the big museum with her class today to see all the inspiring paintings. Paintings of people and places, even paintings of flowers.

But the artists in this museum have made abstract pictures of the inside world!

Through this wonderful picture book children will learn about abstract art and the ways artists have expressed their emotions and ideas through colour and texture.

The book includes a spinner wheel to allow the readers to pick the perfect image to represent how they are feeling and encourages them to make their own unique and personal abstract art.

RAINEY THE ROMANY Elijah Vardo

TATE PUBLISHING

Rainey is nervous about her first day at a new school. Will the other children like her? When Rainey decides to share her Romany Gypsy traditions — full of songs, stories, and bright colour — her classmates discover how special her heritage is.

But just as Rainey begins to feel she belongs, her parents are ready to move onto the next Stopping Place. Can Rainey show them that she can keep her roots alive and still grow in one place?

A heartfelt story of courage, culture, and finding where you belong.
